

ROVSHAN MADATOV

FRONT-END-DEVELOPER

ABOUT ME

I am Rovsen Medetov, a 19-year-old front-end developer from Baku, Azerbaijan. With nearly two years of experience in this field, I am actively working to further improve my skills. Throughout this journey, I took on responsibilities as a team member and worked on various independent projects, gaining valuable experience. I have a keen interest in modern JavaScript technologies and enjoy exploring new frameworks to enhance my development capabilities. My analytical mindset and attention to detail help me approach problems effectively and achieve quality results. Driven by a passion for learning and development, I aim to become a highly skilled front-end developer and contribute to meaningful projects that make a difference.
